

2024 AIAL National Administrative Law Conference

Difficult conversations—values and administrative law

Thursday 18 and Friday 19 July 2024

Hotel Realm, 18 National Circuit
Barton, Canberra, Australian Capital Territory

Ethos, Tom Bass, 1961. Ethos was the first work of art commissioned for a public place in Canberra, and stands outside the ACT Legislative Assembly.

Are values fundamental to administrative law, and if so, which values, and how do, or should, these influence modern administrative law? This Conference seeks to explore these issues from a range of perspectives. Values in the public service, the effectiveness of whistleblowing mechanisms and the proper management of outsourcing will be discussed, and updates will be provided on recent significant High Court decisions and legislative developments relating to various aspects of administrative law. The Conference will also look to the future, inviting consideration about giving effect to these principles in protecting national security, using automation and implementing inquiry recommendations.

The Conference will be relevant to government decision-makers; those affected by decisions, and their advisers; members of review bodies, tribunals and courts; policy developers; public lawyers; academics; and others with an interest in Australian administrative law.
